

THE HOTTEST PART OF WINTER

Homework Two

The Marshal is getting ready for work in the morning. He tells Clara he has a lead on the Henry Gang, and is going to get the jump on them.

The moment he leaves, Clara springs into action, racing to reach the Henry Gang before him.

The gang decides to rob the bank that day, and get out of town.

But once they're robbing it, Clara has a change of heart. She guns down most of the members of her gang, leaving only one alive. She tells him to walk away but he starts to draw on her, and is shot down – by the Marshal! She tells him she wants to leave the outlaw life behind, and he wordlessly forgives her, telling her to come home with him.

As they ride off on his horse, we see that she secretly took a large stash of the bank's money.
